

LOOK VS IN THE EYE

Some frogs need a CITES permit to travel

Such as these five Latin American tree frogs, whose international trade is regulated by CITES.

These frogs can be identified by looking at the eyes of live individuals: their pupils are vertical and their eyes are wine-coloured, bright red or orange.

Black-eyed leaf frog,
Morelet's tree frog
Agalychnis moreletii

Red-eyed tree frog
Agalychnis callidryas

Misfit leaf frog
Agalychnis saltator

Blue-sided leaf frog,
Golden-eyed leaf frog
Agalychnis annae

Gliding tree frog
Agalychnis spurrelli

The Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES), aims to ensure that international trade in the wild animals and plants listed in its Appendices does not endanger their survival.

These frogs might look like the ones above, but they don't require a CITES permit for international trade

Tree frog
Agalychnis hulli
Ecuador and Peru

Lemur leaf frog
Agalychnis lemur
Costa Rica and Panama

Rough leaf frog
Agalychnis aspera
Brazil

Granular leaf frog
Agalychnis granulosa
Brazil

Antioquia leaf frog
Agalychnis danieli
Colombia

Flecked leaf frog
Agalychnis psilopygion
Colombia and Ecuador

Warty leaf frog
Agalychnis buckleyi
Colombia and Ecuador

Rancho Grande leaf frog
Agalychnis medinae
Venezuela

Mexican leaf frog
Agalychnis dacnicolor
Mexico

CITES authorities

Do you have questions about entering or leaving Mexico with your tree frog?

Obtaining CITES permits and certificates: DGVS-SEMARNAT (+52) 55-5624-3509, www.tramites.semarnat.gob.mx

Verification of documents upon entering or leaving the country: PROFEPA 01-800-77-033-72, www.profeпа.gob.mx

Scientific advice: CONABIO (+52) 55-5004-5025, ac-cites@conabio.gob.mx

In other parts of the world, please consult the CITES directory of corresponding authorities: <http://www.cites.org/cms/index.php/lang-en/component/cp/>

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!
IT'S NOT EASY BEING GREEN

KERMIT THE FROG

Tree frogs from the genus Agalychnis protected by CITES

